An abstract graphic design on a white background. On the left, there is a large, solid black circle. In the center, a large black cross is formed by a vertical and a horizontal bar. To the right of the cross, a large black arrow points towards the right edge of the frame. The background is sparsely populated with small, faint elements: the year '1966' is located in the upper left quadrant; the Greek letter 'Θ' (theta) appears twice, once in the upper right and once in the lower right; and various other small, illegible characters and symbols are scattered across the lower half of the image.
